My Sister and I by Leilani Tamu

In this poem the author remembers her Dad and what sort of man he was.

We were betting kids
    my sister and I.
Horses flew Unicorn-like
Around the racecourse when Dad's bets were up.

We were fried chicken kids
    my sister and I.
Chicks cried
    child-like
in the car park
when Dad's chips were down.

We were gambling kids
    my sister and I.
Women flocked Geese-like
to the casino
when Dad's luck won.

We were rugby league kids
    my sister and I.
Men fought
    warrior-like
on the field
when Dad's team lost.

We were betting kids
    we were fried chicken kids
we were gambling kids
    we were rugby league kids
my sister and I
when Dad
    Was alive.
